Tires that did not require setting in thirty years—on a Studebaker

WHEELS are the life of a wagon. Hubs, spokes, felloes and tires of the best materials, put together by skilled workmen, go into every Studebaker.

What is the result? Mr. William H. Horton, of Nineveh, N. Y., writes that the tires on his thirty-six year old Studebaker farm wagon did not need resetting in thirty years—and the wagon was in use every day.

We can prove to you that this is not an exceptional Studebaker wagon. There are thousands of Studebaker wagons in use today that are forty years old and more. And that have cost their owners little or nothing for repairs.

Come in and look over our stock of Studebaker vehicles. Let us show you how well they are built.

OFFICIAL OPENING

Of the Sanitary Survey of Mason County Made Yesterday Afternoon Before a Large Audience in the Washington Opera House.

Yesterday marked one of the greatest days ever known in Mason county, the opening of the greatest drive against the enemies of health and welfare, the Sanitary Survey. Although greatly disappointed over the failure of the governor of the State, His Excellency A. O. Stanley, to arrive in Maysville in order to speak, nevertheless a large crowd was present to hear the other speakers of the afternoon, and without doubt, all well pleased the audience.

The audience was a representative one, people coming from all parts of the county to learn of the Sanitary Survey and its workings. Their minds were satisfied as to this respect for clear explanations were given by the various speakers.

Immediately preceding the exercises at the Opera House, the Red Cross Workers gave a demonstration on the streets. The big parade, which had been planned, was called off on account of the uncertainty of the governor's visit. Nevertheless, a smaller demonstration was made than at first planned. The following was the order of the line of march:

Old Glory carried by Chief of Police Mackey.

Police. Twenty-four Red Cross Workers. Automobiles containing members of the Mason County Health League, Woman's Club, Fiscal Court, City Officials, etc.

The young ladies dressed as Red Cross Nurses attracted much attention by their appearance and many favorable remarks were heard concerning them.

The meeting at the Opera House was preceded by several musical selections by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Boyer. Promptly at 2:30 o'clock the program was opened with an invocation by the Rev. Dr. John Barbour.

The meeting was presided over by the Hon. J. W. Lee, Mayor of the city, who held the chairmanship with an ease and grace that is characteristic of him.

Dr. J. N. McCormack, State Sanitary Inspector, addressed the audience telling it that he had just been talking to Governor Stanley, who said that his plans to be in Maysville were frustrated by being compelled to work on plans for Registration Day but that he sent his love and affection and regret to all present and that he hoped to be present in Maysville some time during the Sanitary Survey to see for himself what was being done.

Dr. L. L. Lumsden, Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service, was the first speaker of the afternoon. He said that he felt highly honored to be present at the opening of the Sanitary Survey of Mason County. He said that Mason County was one of nineteen out of the 3000 in the United States to engage with the Public Health Service and the State Board of Health in carrying out an intensive plan of sanitation work, but being the first county in the United States to show with a substantial evidence of their appreciation of the Health work in the "hard coin of the realm." He said that the main purpose of the campaign was to make good health contagious and urged that this be the slogan of the survey, "Make Good Health Contagious."

The speaker then gave a history of the sanitation movement in this country, particularly in the rural districts, where, he said, little progress was being made. He asked "What investment could be better than a plan to increase our healthfulness?" He stated that there were only three things to live for, three meals a day, a bed to sleep in and thrills. "The latter," he said, "raise us above the beasts of the field and draw us closer to the throne of God, being the only thing to live for."

He then talked of the prospects of success of the work in Mason County and expressing his belief that the Survey would be a success, but not only a success, but how big a success. He urged that everyone get the idea of a sanitary score for Mason County of 100 per cent, saying that many counties could not show a close scrutiny of 70 per cent sanitation.

He then explained the sanitary survey. He said that the purpose of the doctors present was not to go into the homes to peep under the beds or in the closets to spy out every particle of dust, but to consult with the inmates of the home concerning water supply, waste disposal, the milk supply, and other vital matters. He said that one of the most fool theories ever given to the human race was "what you don't know won't hurt you." He then talked to some length concerning flies. He gave the six ages among people: First when they were tolerated, second when they were shooed, third the screening and the one generally used at present of swatting. He said that the only way to get a flyless age was to get rid of the breeding places as soon as possible.

He defined sanitation as a common sense application of the principles of cleanliness but later said that it was getting things clean and keeping them clean. He defined dirt as matter out of place.

In closing he paid a very pleasing tribute to woman. He said that every movement for the betterment of the world came from woman and what she did not want was not worth having. He said that the women generally started things and the men followed and were usually glad that they did so.

Dr. Lumsden's speech was full of wit and pithy sayings and he held his audience in a remarkable manner. All present were greatly pleased with him.

Dr. J. S. McCormack, previously mentioned, was the next speaker of the afternoon. He gave some very interesting facts concerning health work, telling some of his many experiences in 38 years of connection with the work in the State of Kentucky. He said that Mason County was to be congratulated on having two such women as Miss Annie M. Casey and Miss Jessie O. Yancey, who started the campaign for the Sanitary Survey. His speech was very interesting.

Dr. J. S. Locke, who will be at the head of the work, also made a short talk.

The last speaker of the afternoon was Dr. A. P. Lewis, of Cincinnati, member of the American Red Cross, who was present in Maysville to organize a chapter in this city. Dr. Lewis first told of the Red Cross work and the many benefits of that organization, one of the most powerful in the world, could give to the soldiers in camps and trenches. He said that almost everyone before him would be in some way vitally affected by this war, but that we must fight for the right or fall miserably. "This" he said, "is a war to decide between democracy and autocracy, to decide whether or not people will be free or only partly free."

Major Lee then introduced the members of the party of doctors who will be present in Mason County to carry on the work during the next several months. There are five of them, Drs. Townsend, Sharp, Mustard, Bote and Haralson. They have recently been engaged in work in Texas, coming directly from there.

rect to Maysville from the Lone Star State.

At the Woman's Club building on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock a meeting will be held to finish organization of a Red Cross Chapter in Mason County. Already a large number have pledged themselves to join the chapter. At this meeting the directors will be elected and other plans carried out.

BUY A LIBERTY WAR BOND

Everybody can buy one of the bonds which will be issued by the United States government to raise funds to carry on the war which our country is preparing to wage for human rights and human liberty.

The first issue of these bonds will amount to two billions of dollars. They will bear interest at the rate of three and half per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually the first of January and the first of July. These bonds will not be subject to local, State or Federal taxes of any nature, and thus will be more desirable than a four per cent. investment on which taxes are imposed.

It is probable that these bonds will be issued in denominations to suit small investors. Very likely, "baby bonds," as they are termed, as small as $20, will be issued, and everybody can participate in the patriotic duty of "doing a bit" to help to finance the war.

Anybody who can start a bank account and put aside a small amount weekly can buy of these war bonds. Your banker will buy the bond for you and carry it until your savings equal the value of the security, provided of course you pay the small interest on the balance due on the bond.

The great probability is that there will be a rush for these bonds. The resources of this powerful Nation are back of them, and if other loans are called for at a higher rate of interest, these are convertible into the bonds carrying the higher rate of interest.

LINCOLN REPLACES NICHOLAS

There is a proud pedestal in a public square of Petrograd that used to bear a statue of Emperor Nicholas. That statue was taken down and cast away on the day when the Russian people arose and threw off the yoke of the Romanoffs. It is bare and meaningless now, like the big throne on which the last, degenerate scion of the ancient Romanoff dynasty used to sit in state.

But it is not to be vacant long. A group of Americans have bought a statue of Abraham Lincoln and presented it to the Russian republic, and the figure of the great, gaunt Emancipator will soon look down from the puny czar's pedestal.

Abe Lincoln in the czar's place place! It seems incredible. But it's just where Lincoln belongs. The great democrat crowds out the great autoocrat. It's symbol of the time we live in.

And homely old Abe will be quite at home on that marble pedestal in the Russian capital. His sad, furrowed face and wrinkled garb will suit the scene better than aristocratic finements and royal droppings. The spirit of democracy, which is the spirit of rock-bottom humanity, is the same everywhere and the Russian masses will see in Lincoln one of their own kind.

Another reason why the cost of living was lower in the good old times was because the grocery store was more of a loafing place than a boarding place.

We all realize the delights of anticipation, but don't tell your troubles before they happen.

MANY WORKMEN ARE CLAIMED BY TUBERCULOSIS

Washington, D. C.—Tuberculosis causes about 20.5 per cent of the deaths of male industrial workers and about 14.4 per cent of the deaths of female workers, according to mortality figures made public by the bureau of labor statistics.

The report, based upon the 94,269 deaths of male and the 102,467 deaths of female industrial policy holders of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, shows an average age of men dying from tuberculosis was 37.1 years women 34.1.

T. B. Gets 25 Per Cent.

Of the total deaths among clerks, bookkeepers and office assistants, 35 per cent were from tuberculosis. Among printers, steamfitters, longshoremen, teamsters, chauffeurs, bartenders and machinists more than 25 per cent of deaths are shown by the report to be from tuberculosis causes.

The figures further show:

Organic diseases of the heart cause the largest number of deaths among farmers and farm laborers.

Accidental violence, responsible for the largest number of deaths among railway trainmen and engineers, track and yard laborers and coal miners.

Heart Troubles Women

Among women organic diseases of the heart caused the largest number of deaths of housewives and housekeepers.

Of the deaths among textile workers 35.5 per cent are caused by tuberculosis.

The highest average age at death among farmers and farm laborers, 55.5 years.

The lowest average age at death is among bookkeepers and office assistants, 36.5.

Bakers Often Sufocides

Where the industrial workers are exposed to colds, drafts and dampness, as among bricklayers, or violent changes of temperature, as among teamsters and chauffeurs, respiratory diseases are prominent.

Suicide is frequent where depressing influences are present, as among bakers and cigarmakers.

Where questionable water supplies are used, as among enginemen, farmers, and laborers, typhoid fever is high.

Texas City, Tex.—In an interesting statement, Mrs. G. H. Schill, of this town, says: "For three years I suffered untold agony with my head. I was unable to do any of my work.

I just wanted to sleep all the time, for that was the only ease I could get, when I was asleep. I became a nervous wreck just from the awful suffering with my head.

I was so nervous that the least noise would make me jump out of my bed. I had no energy, and was unable to do anything. My son, a young boy, had to do all my household duties.

I was not able to do anything until I took Cardui. I took three bottles in all, and it surely cured me of those awful headaches. That has been three years ago, and I know the cure is permanent, for I have never had any headache since taking Cardui...

HOUSE ADOPTS MAIL INCREASE FOR WAR TAX

Washington, May 22—Sitting until after midnight the House tonight virtually completed consideration of the $1,800,000,000 war revenue bill by adopting, 198 to 71, a new proposal from the Ways and Means Committee for increasing second class mail rates under a zone system.

A few unfinished sections including the proposed tax on advertising will be voted on tomorrow before final passage of the bill. Redrafting of the bill in the Senate is expected and the measure as it ultimately goes to the President will be perfected in conference.

Attention centered throughout the evening upon the proposed advance in second class mail rates, against which Republican Leader Mann and others waged a vigorous fight. As a substitute for the original section in the bill the Ways and Means Committee in the afternoon had brought in a new plan for progressive increases based upon the present parcel post zones under which the highest rates ultimately would be six cents a pound. Nearly all of the contested sections had been completed when the second class mail proposal was taken up under an agreement that it should be rebated three hours. The tariff section adding three per cent to all dues now imposed and taxing nearly all articles now on the free list ten per cent, was retained after Representative Lenroot, of Wisconsin, had striven unsuccessfully to eliminate the increase on sugar.

An amendment was written into the clause in the postal section adding one cent to all first class mail charges to provide that the rate on letters for local delivery remain at two cents.

AUSTRIA PLANS GENEROUS PEACE OFFER TO RUSSIA

Amsterdam, via London, May 22, 9:44 p. m.—It is the Austrian Emperor's idea to offer very generous peace conditions to Russia, according to a German correspondent of the Tijid. These will include the integral re-establishment of Poland free passage through the Dardanelles and even a loan to Russia. These proposals were discussed at a recent meeting between Count Czernin, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, and Dr. Von Bethmann Hollweg, temporary German chancellor at headquarters.

FOR CITY CLERK

We are in receipt of the following communication from Mr. Fred Arn, authorizing the Ledger to announce his candidacy for the office of City Clerk. We would ask that all our patrons read the statement. Mr. Arn is President of the Maysville Tea, Coffee and Spice Co., one of the city's active concerns. He is a young man of splendid habits—attentive to his business and abundantly qualified to discharge the duties of the office he seeks. He has a great many friends who will rally to his support. The Public Ledger.

Gentlemen: Will you kindly announce in the Thursday issue of your paper that I am a candidate for the office of City Clerk of the City of Maysville, subject to the action of the voters at the November election. The probability of my success in the election of this important office has been suggested to me many times by many of my friends, in the past few weeks, but until I looked into the matter, and found beyond all doubt that I was thoroughly qualified to fill the position, in case I was so honored, I refused to commit myself, but now as I am confident I can give the service this office rightfully deserves, I enter the race, feeling that I can give the taxpayers of Maysville value received.

If elected I promise to take an active part in the establishment of an efficient city government, so far as the authority of the office reaches. I love hard work, and loathe a loafer, have a fair education, and have visited perhaps more cities and public institutions in the United States, Canada and Mexico than any man near my age in the city. I have many friends, and no enemies, and I am going to win this race on a platform with only one plank, and that plank is service. I will appreciate the support given me after the election as well as before. My opponents are all good men, and I hope that we run a close race because I love keen competition.

Yours most respectfully,

FRED ARN.
